Parents not guilty in drowning death of their child in Sumpter

By Diane Madigan
Independent Court Reporter

The parents of the baby who drowned in a Sumpter Township swimming pool last summer have been found not guilty of involuntary manslaughter.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Dana Hathaway pronounced her verdict June 19 after a seven-hour court session that started out as a jury trial and ended up a bench trial at the Frank Murphy Hall of Justice in Detroit.

Oliver Hunt was 11 months old when he apparently crawled into a swimming pool at 45949 Bontekoe Drive in Sumpter Township the morning of Aug. 20.

Sumpter Township Police said the parents were sleeping off a drinking binge from the night before, when in the morning little Oliver apparently left his portable crib, crawled 78 feet through the house, down three steps to outdoors and up five onto the deck, through a gate broken in multiple places with a broken latch -- and climbed into the pool.

Witnesses included Sumpter Police Officer Jerry Cox, homeowner Shere Cadieux, Ricky Cadieux (18-year-old son of defendant Perry and grandson of Cadieux, who lives at his grandmother's house with his girlfriend), Gary Hawthorne (who also lives at the house with Shere Cadieux), Ralph James Tucker and Kelly Tucker (next-door neighbors), Brenda Bonior (who was visiting the Tucker home), and Sumpter Police Officer/Evidence Technician Danielle Buccellato.

Ricky Cadieux, who said he had not been drinking that night, testified "Ollie" was not walking by himself. He said he had seen him crawl half way up the deck steps and all the way down.

Belleville Planners OK Davenport plan to get started on strip mall

By Rosemary K. Otzman
Independent Editor

Davenport Brothers was given approval to get started on their new strip mall project – but they are proceeding at their own risk.

At the regular meeting of the Belleville Planning Commission on June 20, the commission was presented with two, last-minute letters and so the "Davenport Plaza" was added to the agenda.

One letter was to the commission from Steve Davenport dated June 13 in reference to the development of 164 East Columbia.

It said: "The Davenport Brothers is seeking planning commission approval to start the excavation of the storm water system. We understand we need site plan approval to obtain a permit and we are asking permission from the planning commission that we can start prior to site plan approval at our own risk. We will be

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees honored Ralph Nodwell for his 30 years of volunteer work in the township. A Resolution, officially passed by the board, and a plaque were presented to him at the June 18 board meeting. He posed with the board and his wife of 53 years Arlene. Board members from left are Trustee Reggie Miller, Treasurer Sharry Budd, Supervisor Linda Combs, Trustee Jeff Jahr, and Trustee Brenda McClanahan.

The Belleville Downtown Development Authority formally thanked the BYC for its part in the 2013 Belleville Lake and Downtown Beautification Project. At its June 19 meeting, DDA chairman John Hoops, right, presented the framed certificate of appreciation to Rick Dawson, who represented the BYC. Dawson said they had 100 people at last year's lake cleanup and 125 this year. He said there will be even more next year.

Not guilty

Cadieux said Ollie could have crawled anywhere he wanted to go.

"He could crawl to the roof, if he wanted," Ricky Cadieux said.

According to testimony, Oliver had been sleeping in the portable playpen in the living room and after he was found in the pool it was discovered that one side of the playpen had collapsed in a "V" which could have allowed him to crawl out while his parents were sleeping.

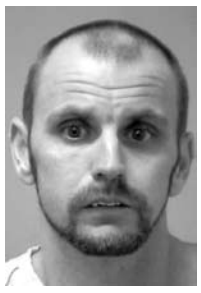
Oliver Hunt

After listening to the testimony and arguments of the defense attorneys and the prosecuting attorney, Judge Hathaway reviewed the elements of proof necessary for involuntary manslaughter in this case, which included: failure to provide the legal duty to supervise and secure the child and willfully neglecting to perform such duties.

The trial originally was to be a jury trial for each of the two defendants and they were each to have a jury. Potential jurors for the two juries waited outside the courtroom until after 11 a.m., when they were dismissed in favor of a bench trial.

Perry had arrived at 10:40 a.m. for her 9 a.m. jury trial, delaying the case.

After testimony, Judge Hathaway went to her chambers to review the agreed-upon jury instructions, read the autopsy report, listen to the CD of the 911 call, and arrive at her decision.



Ray Hunt

Angelina Perry

She returned to the courtroom 15 minutes later and briefly reviewed the elements of each witness' testimony.

"All we really know is they failed to watch the 11-month-old child long enough to prevent him from drowning," Judge Hathaway said.

"What comes into play is knowledge. When it comes to gross negligence, negligence requires knowledge," she said.

Judge Hathaway said what is unknown was if Oliver had the propensity to go straight through the house to go outside.

"Was Oliver attracted to the pool or was he afraid? The People have not met their burden to show gross negligence on the part of both. The evidence does not show the risk of the pool," she said.

"I find both defendants not guilty."

With that verdict, the family stood up and started crying and hugging each other.

Hunt's court-appointed attorney Brian Gagniuk said, "You are free to go."

Perry's court-appointed attorney was Mark Nortley. Standing in for Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Carin Goldfarb, who began the case, was Assistant Prosecuting Attorney David Braxton.

Belleville plan

giving the city of Belleville a hold-harmless agreement. Thank you for your time."

The second letter was a June 13 reply to Davenport's letter from Keith Boc, the city's director of public services, advising him the City of Belleville administration is recommending to the planning commission approval of their plans. However, it was contingent on city engineers approval prior to any construction or permit to proceed.

Boc told the commission Davenport plans to start with the detention pond and storm sewer only, but they need planning commission approval to move more than 100 cubic yards in one year.

"This will allow them to move dirt," explained planning commission chairman Steve Jones.

Another commissioner noted, and others agreed, Davenport has been moving a lot of dirt on that site for a long time.

Engineer Mark Gaworecki from Hennessey Engineers said what they are doing is just the storm sewer: a detention basin and pipe.

"They have submitted a site plan," Boc said, noting the engineers and planning consultant Jill Bahm have looked at it. He said the site plan is in his office and applications have been filled out and paid for.

Boc said the site plan will be on the agenda of the next planning commission meeting on July 11.

"They are doing this at their own risk," Boc said, adding, "It's a nice project to come before you next month."

He said Davenport will prepare and secure the site.

Commissioner Michael Hawkins said the request before them would be like forcing the commission to approve the project once they are started.

Bahm said the hold-harmless letter is so if they do all the work and aren't approved they can't come back later and say, "You said we could."

Boc said Davenport has a lot of stuff on the property to move and he doubts if they will have the pond and pipe done by next month's meeting.

The commission voted unanimously to approve the plan for the storm water system for Davenport under the terms discussed.

Chairman Jones said Davenports were in a hurry to start construction. The sign on the property says the mall will be available in 2013.

Commissioner Jesse Marcotte, who was the longest-serving member of the commission, was attending his last meeting since he is moving out of the Belleville community. He commented on his disappointment of the cursory review of the Davenport plan by the Belleville Fire Department.

Marcotte, who is a fire fighter in Northville Township, is moving from Belleville to be closer to his job.

He said he had the misfortune to respond to the May 8 disaster in Westland where 29-year-old fire fighter Brian Woehlke was killed after the roof of a strip mall collapsed during a fire. Marcotte said he knows how important building safety is.

"I'd be glad to do review of plans under the fire code," Marcotte said.

Later, he said when Darwin Loyer was fire chief, Marcotte was asked to go over plans with Loyer, making sure fire codes were complied with. Since Loyer left, Marcotte said he has not been asked to review any plans.

In other business at the 37-minute meeting, the commission:

• Held an 11-minute public hearing on the updated zoning ordinance and the ClearZoning municipal coding process of the ordinances, which makes the city ordinances accessible at any time on the internet. Belleville Realtor Glenn Silvenis said he was not clear what they were finally proposing on the required 100% retail on the ground floor and restricting of offices in the downtown district. Bahm said after there was opposition to that, the commission agreed that up to half of a downtown block could be office space on the ground floor (instead of none, as is now the case). Silvenis said he still believed this restricting of office space is not good for the growth of the city; and

• Approved recommending the Zoning Ordinance/ClearZoning to the city council for approval as one unit. A new zoning map is a part of the unit and all ordinances will be repealed and replaced by this. The zoning changes include current B-3 zoned properties on Main and South streets to the railroad tracks to be converted to B-2, Central Business. Also, the parcels south of Columbia, north and west of the railroad tracks to the end of Wabash has been changed from I-1 Light Industrial to B-1, Local Business. Belleville is the first community in Wayne County that will be under ClearZoning and Mayor Kerreen Conley said from the audience that that was quite impressive. Bahm's firm, that used to be called Birchler Arroyo Associates, developed the ClearZoning procedure and then changed the firm's

What's it worth to get rid of some pesky beavers?

How much is it worth to get rid of some pesky beavers? Well, Sumpter Township officials (minus one) think up to $3,000 should do it and voted 6-1 to set aside that amount at Tuesday's board meeting.

The beavers have returned to Banotai Park and so Trustee Alan Bates recommended hiring Wildlife Services to come out and catch them – like that local businessman did a few years back. He caught six at that time.

Charge is $850 to come out, set up the traps and monitor them and $150 for every beaver he catches and carries away. Bates thought they should do it now before two beavers become 20 beavers and the rest of the board members thought that sounded good.

Except for Trustee Bill Hamm, who said the cost was too much. He wanted to shop around. He suggested the township buy its own traps. Bates stated that although he'd been put in charge of parks, he was not wading into the lake with a beaver trap.

Hamm said the last time the man caught beavers for Sumpter, they had him spray a red spot on each beaver, so they could be sure the same beavers didn't come back.

Clerk Hoffman pointed out the local man is trying to make a living and he has invested in his vehicle, insurance, traps, and has other expenses. We agree $3,000 is a small price to pay to get rid of the beavers, especially the ones without red spots.

EXTRA THINGS I KNOW ...By Rosemary K. Otzman

A reader sent a letter she wanted published without her signature, although she let me know who she was.

She wanted to thank the person who found an important paper that she had left at the Belleville library recently.

"It's nice to know people are still honest and care about doing the right thing," she said, adding, "Kudos to this unknown person."

She didn't want her name used because of the sensitive information in the paper she left.

I sat next to Sumpter Township Police Chief Jim Pierce for about an hour and a half last week, as we waited for the township board to complete its closed-door session on an employee's discipline.

We talked about many things, including Chief Pierce's scheduled June 26 surgery on his right knee at Henry Ford Hospital in Wyandotte. He said he damaged his knee by all the kicking he did over many years of teaching tae kwon do. He suggested that parents who want their children to take martial arts training, should give them the softer versions, such as tai chi.

At the Belleville DDA meeting last week Tom Fielder said that Meijer, a primary sponsor of the Strawberry Festival, brought a semi rig full of yogurt to the festival each day for three days. All the yogurt was given away and it was good-tasting yogurt. They weren't giving away just small sample containers, but cases of yogurt, he said.

DDA member Brian Copsey said at one point he had 60 cases of yogurt in his cooler at the Bayou, as people wanted to keep their yogurt cool as they ate their meals.

At the DDA meeting, it also was noted that the exclusive BYC group is putting in a pool at the former Moose Lodge building on East Huron River Drive on the lake.

I know the money has to be spent by the end of the month by the City of Belleville, but that gap sidewalk by Edgemont School that has been put in makes me nervous.

Since it couldn't go right next to the railroad track at the sharp curve on Edgemont at Robbe, they are making a crosswalk there to connect with the sidewalk on the other side of the street.

That's a very sharp curve and I'd hate to see children from the school crossing over there. Gives me the willies.

At the June 17 special school board meeting, I had to leave before they were done with their agenda, since it was a regular meeting night of the city council.

So, the final agenda item called "Online Board Packet Process and iPad Distribution" was discussed after I left.

I saw in the minutes of that meeting that they distributed iPads to board members who did not have them. It was explained that these are part of a pool of iPads already in use by the district and were not purchased separately for the board.

On Monday, I asked board president Brent Mikulski about it and he said four iPads were distributed to board members who didn't have them and all teachers are getting them.

They are trying to cut back on paper use and so the board packets are being sent by the internet in two separate pdf files: one the entire packet in order and one the check run in a separate document.

The minutes also state: "There will also be a Google Doc Folder created, accessible only to Board Members and Mr. Van Tassel that may have comments or edits to the Board packet prior to the meeting."

That sounded suspicious, so I asked if I had to FOIA that part and Supt. Van Tassel said it was just a place where all the board information was put. I'm still not sure that there aren't private messages in there that the public should know about. Other public bodies have been caught doing business via internet, in violation of the Open Meetings Act. Hope this public body knows better. It gets real crazy when citizens start filing Freedom of Information Act requests on emails of their public officials.

The packets for the meetings have been sent to the Press by internet for some time now.

Sumpter Township closed our 'Yard Sale'

To the Editor:

How can you change without something changing?

"Big Ole Yard Sale" has been shut down by Sumpter Township because we don't live on the property.

We have been stripped of our C-3 zoning and the special exceptions process. The spokesperson stated nothing has changed. Then why waste the township's money to change it? Especially, knowing this change is under protest.

There is a "no change law" in this country. Where will they stop? You may be next.

We are sorry to the yard sale goers and the persons who have signed up to participate these next two weekends. I can't take a chance on being arrested for having a yard sale on my taxed property zoned C-3 (allowable yard sale) now taken and changed, as of last week's Independent notice of the change.

Sorry I offended someone.

I sure hope this property is still of value, now that it has been stripped of the zoning we applied for and have been granted: C-3. Really want to know who is gaining from this.

We are now questioning our staying here. We have been offered over the last 19 years many other opportunities. Now these offers are entertaining.

Can no longer trust Sumpter and what might happen next. That's how it is and that is why we feel this way.

The Bake Shoppe will be on vacation July 4, 2013 for 19 days.

Thanks to Civic Fund for smoke house repair

To the Editor:

Van Buren Township Fire Department personnel is committed to educating the public about the perils of fire and ways to prevent a fire from occurring.

One way that the Fire Department had been effectively teaching school age kids about fire safety was through the hands-on interactive experience of its smoke house. For the past few years, due to financial issues, the line item for Fire Prevention has been the first to go – being reduced to virtually nothing. Due to lack of funding, the smoke house sat unused in the back parking lot.

It was disheartening to be unable to provide fire safety educational programming, especially when we received frequent calls to bring out the smoke house for special events by the schools and neighborhood homeowner associations.

In the interest of reviving the public educational fire safety programming, I tasked the fire department staff with evaluating repairs required to bring the smoke house back to safe standards. A thorough inspection of the smoke house revealed it was in a lot worse shape than originally thought. It needed some dire work just to allow people to enter it, more or less allow any children through it!

After obtaining estimates to refurbish the smoke house, I contacted the Van Buren Civic Fund, which graciously donated the funding to restore it to "as good as new."

I cannot thank them enough for their generous donation to restore the smoke house so we can re-establish our fire safety program here in the community.

With deepest respect on behalf of the Van Buren Township Fire Department,
Daniel C. Besson

To the Editor:

With your help, once again South Biggs Street had a 100% participation in the "Display Your Flag on Flag Day" event on June 14. Every home and vacant lot had at least one U.S. Flag on display.

Looking down our street and seeing U.S. Flags as far as one could see, displayed and blowing gently in the wind, was quite a sight. If you didn't drive down our street to catch this view, you missed a chance of a lifetime.

The number of 3'x5' flags flying from the porches, poles or garages on South Biggs seems to increase every year. Let's add a few more for next year.

I had many, many refurbished 12"x16" flags available for free in front of my home. Several people took advantage of this offer and many were taken. I'll try to have more available for next year's Flag Day event.

I was a bit disappointed with the number of downtown businesses that did not have a flag on display. I know that the Strawberry Festival was in full swing and maybe some of them could not be seen. Next year's downtown Flag display will be better?

Thanks again to my entire Biggs neighbors who help make me proud of our joint effort. I hope you are also proud to be a resident of South Biggs.

Independence Day, July 4, is just around the corner. This is also a day we should fly our colors. Put your Flag on display once again.

Obituaries

Jeffrey D. Kwiecinski

JEFFREY D. KWIECINSKI
(June 11, 1958 - June 21, 2013)
Jeffrey Dean Kwiecinski, age 55, passed away Friday, June 21, 2013 due to complications from a stroke that shut down his organs. He fought extremely hard to beat the big C from 2001 to 2005 and won the battle against the big C, cancer-free till his death.
He is survived by his wife Barbara and special friend Nancy; his step-sons Keith (Sandy) and Robert (Carrie); his father Leonard; two brothers Gary (Renee) and Keith; two sisters Bonnie and Lori; several nieces and nephews, friends and pets.
Jeffrey was preceded in death by his mother Grace Kwiecinski and brother Roger Kwiecinski.
He loved being a member of the Huron Valley Night Hawks. "Old Pollock" put in 35 years earning his retirement from the club and became a lifetime member. He loved playing tricks on all the members of the club, living dangerously, and riding dangerously. The Harley and Jeff must have had nine lives together. Jeffrey was a commercial carpenter who was proud to be a leader of the carpenters' union. He also enjoyed working as a fireman for Augusta Township. Jeffrey loved to haul all kinds of scrap, gardening, canning, helping others out of a jam, and working on the yard or in the garage, camping and fishing. He loved to pretend to be mad when his wife could catch more catfish than him, especially when the others were making fun of him, saying he should have been taking lessons from his wife Barbara.
Visitation was Tuesday June 25, 2013 from 4-8 P.M. and Wednesday, June 26, 2013 from 12-1 P.M. with a funeral service at 1:00 P.M. with Crazy Jap officiating at David C. Brown Temporary Viewing & Funeral Chapel, 500 E. Huron River Drive, Belleville, Michigan. Interment followed at Alban Cemetery, Ypsilanti, Michigan.

Clara was preceded in death by her husband Gilbert G. in 1981; her parents; seven brothers Alva, Andrew, Ted, Warren, Watson, Pete, James; two sisters; Virginia, and Angie.
Living in the Belleville area for more than sixty-six years, Clara was still a faithful member of Mt. Union Methodist Church in West Virginia. She enjoyed going to church, most of all she loved spending time with her grandchildren.

M. , Tuesday June 25, 2013 from 12-1 P.M. with a funeral service at 1:00 P.M. with Pastor Bobby Hall officiating at David C. Brown Temporary Viewing & Funeral Chapel, 500 E. Ask Angela

By Angela Nettro

I am here to answer questions pertaining to buying or selling real estate. Send your questions to "Ask Angela", c/o Belleville-Area Independent, 152 Main Street, Ste. 9, Belleville 48111 or send me an email at nettroandco@comcast.net . I'll answer questions in this column.

Question from Charles in Sumpter Township: I just recently started looking for a home to buy. I decided to make an offer on the second home I looked at with a Realtor. I had not gotten pre-approved before making the offer. The Realtor said she could get me pre-approved with a Lender, so I could get my offer presented to the seller.

I spoke with the Lender briefly and the Realtor received the pre-approval letter to submit my offer. My offer was accepted and now I have seven days to start the mortgage paperwork with the Lender. In the meantime I have done some shopping on my own for a Bank/Lender and have compared my closing costs and interest rate with the first Lender.

I do Not want to use the first Lender due to the interest rate and closing costs being higher. I asked the Realtor if I could change my financing Lender for the purchase. She said no because the pre-approval letter used when making the offer was a part of the total purchase agreement with the seller. Is this right? Can I use another Bank/Lender of my choice, even though my purchase offer was accepted?

Answer: YES! If the seven days are not up to apply for a mortgage, you have the right to choose your own Lender/Bank. Even if the seven days have expired you can provide a signed addendum to the seller requesting a few days more to apply for your loan, since you needed the time to apply with a different Lender.

Also, provide the seller with a second pre-approval letter with the addendum. Be sure the type of mortgage financing is the same, since the seller's acceptance of your offer was for a certain sales price as well as a specific type of loan.

If you had gotten a pre-approval letter before looking for a home, you would have had the time to shop for your interest rate and costs and been more comfortable with the selection of a Lender before making an offer. Good Luck with your Purchase. ...Angela

RE: Unsolicited thoughts on Strawberry Festival

There are obviously two sides to every story.

The boys in question from Illinois have family who live here in Belleville and have for over 48 years. One of the young men was just honorably discharged from the military after serving three tours oversees.

He is now going to school to become an anesthesiologist while the other is a Criminal Justice major at Columbia College.

As they were walking home, a group of three young men, one in a Batman mask, started bashing the military, saying all sorts of disgusting, profane things. The military boy proudly wears his arm tattoos for his fallen comrades. He suspects this is what your son and the other two saw.

Our military proudly serves and protects yours as well as all American families. This was hard on the Illinois boy.

Yes, the military boy did charge a man he thought was responsible for the very rude and inappropriate comments. The other one knew it was the wrong guy, so he chased and attempted to pull his friend away while he and the lady yelled "wrong guy." No punches were thrown.

As soon as he realized this, he turned and approached the three boys. The incident was averted as the police pulled in before the two groups ever met. Now this is from the Belleville police themselves. Perjury is not a good thing. I am sure once Police Chief Taylor reviews the car cameras he will see what truly went on.

I have never been one to throw the first stone. Perception is everything. Therefore, I can sign my name to this. With the exception of that one incident, we truly enjoyed the Strawberry Festival as a family, seeing as how it is also when we have our family reunion.

Thank you to everyone who worked hard to put this national event on.

Sumpter Township Public Notice

Revision to 2012 Sumpter Township Water Quality Report

Infants and young children are typically more vulnerable to lead in drinking water than the general population. It is possible that lead levels at your home may be higher than at other homes in the community as a result of materials used in your home's plumbing. If you are concerned about elevated lead levels in your home's water, you may wish to have your water tested and flush your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using tap water. Additional information is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Strawberry Festival definitely IS worth it!

To the Editor:

Response to "Unsolicited thoughts on Strawberry Festival"

First of all, I regret the incident your son and his friends were involved in and I pray no one was injured.

The answer to your basic question, "Is it worth it?" is an emphatic, "YES." I can assure you and the readers that the churches, community organizations, and the community as a whole benefit from this festival.

As former president of the Chamber of Commerce, I know that a large portion of the Chamber's budget is earned from the festival.

Consider this: Most of the work done to put on the festival is done by volunteers of the various organizations represented. Do you believe for a minute they would spend the many hours they do planning and working on it if their organizations did not benefit from their labor? As for the police, I believe they are paid for their service, and for some of them it may represent overtime pay.

Generally speaking, the festival has a good reputation as a family event and each year every effort is made to improve the event so that it draws visitors to our community from miles away, many of whom return each year.

Are there disruptions from time to time? Yes, usually resulting from outsiders. That is why the police presence has been increased dramatically over the last few years. The solution is to control the situations that arise, not to dismantle the festival because of the conduct of a few out of the thousands that attend.

When the schools have problems with discipline, they deal with the problem and try to eliminate it. Would you suggest closing the school system down?

Too many good and beneficial community events and activities are lost to the majority of citizens because of the irresponsible conduct of a few individuals.

Without the publications of your letter, the vast majority of the participants in the festival would not have been aware of the incident. Actually, it took place after the festival was shut down for the day. Did it occur as a result of the festival or because the persons involved had been in a bar?

It is just a suggestion, but instead of writing a letter, evoking bad PR and asking if the Strawberry Festival has reached the end of its cycle, you might consider volunteering to work on next year's festival. If you put your mind to it, you may be able to provide positive ideas on how it can be improved.

Proud of our community and the Strawberry Festival,

Brown Family Center is a blessing to me

To the Editor:

Last year I lost both of my parents, nearly at the same time. It was in Florida and I had temporarily moved there from my home in Sumpter Township to see them safely into heaven.

When I returned home I was glad to be back and to have this terrible time in my life behind me. I felt that I was "back to normal" and set about the business of getting a new job, I had lost mine while I was away for so long, and reconnecting with my friends and church family.

It was not long before I realized that I was not anything near normal. I seemed to always be in a fog, confused and overwhelmed by the simplest things. Unable to focus and even be interested in things that I used to love to do.

At that time it was suggested that I may be going through grief and might need to "see someone." I was told that the Brown Family Center offered free grief counseling and everyone was welcome, even if you did not use their services for your lost loved ones.

Although extremely difficult, I did NOT want to talk about it. I made the call and started to visit with Mary Martinez a few times a month. It has not been easy but it has been extremely beneficial.

I thought that if I just ignored what had happened, if I just pretended that things were normal, they would be. That was not going to happen and even though I am doing much better, I have an understanding that this is process and it will take a while.

I now attend one of the group counseling sessions that meets in the evenings, once a month, at the Brown Family Center. It is so helpful to share my story with those who know exactly what I am feeling.

I urge anyone who has suffered a loss and would find helpful a kind & caring person who is well versed in all matters of grief, to give Mary a call. Her number is 734-697-5090. I would personally like to thank the Brown family for providing this service to our community, free of charge. It has been a blessing.

Recently, I had the privilege of having my great niece Elizabeth with me at work, and for the evening we went to the Strawberry Festival, to the USTA's Smashzone (wouldn't miss that), and over to St. Anthony to make better use of our wristbands.

Walking back to town we headed to the Belleville Charhouse to grab a bite and to listen to the evening performance of the BHS Jazz Band. With their time slot of 7 to 9 p.m. almost up, a group of patrons in the bar area couldn't let them pack it up quite yet. In fact they ended up paying the band to play another hour until 10 p.m. Is that cool or what

Pet of the Week

"DEAN"

You might be tempted to overlook Dean at first glance since he's a little rough around the edges but you'd be missing out on a very friendly, nice kitty boy if you didn't take another look. He arrived with his brother Frank in very poor condition and from the looks of them they survived some hard days before finding their way to us. Dean took a little while but warmed up in time to show us that even though life knocked him down he didn't lose his gentle, friendly spirit. He's not one to hog all the attention but can often be found sitting nearby waiting quietly and patiently to be noticed and loved on when there is visitors. We urge you to not pass on getting to know Dean because he's a true diamond in the rough that we have no doubt will easily become your most treasured friend. Put an end to Dean's patient waiting and call today to meet him. He's neutered, vaccinated, tested neg. for FeLuk/FIV and micro-chipped. 734-461-9458
